Town councillors back protest against street parking charges

BRIDPORT Town Council has joined the chorus of voices slamming plans to charge for on-street parking in the town.

The town's councillors have joined the more than 3,000 signatures that have appeared on both online and paper petitions in demanding Dorset County Council scrap plans to replace one hour free parking bays with ticket machines.

At a plans meeting on Monday, September 2nd, councillors "very strongly opposed" the plans, stating:

- It would have a detrimental impact on the market, with the bays currently used by market traders;

- It would deter people from coming into the town centre and parking with the consequent impact on the local economy;

by Chris Denne
chris@pemedia.co.uk

- It would be detrimental to the vitality of the town centre.

The plans committee also claimed that the scheme "had not been popular" in other towns and asked for evidence of where it had been introduced successfully.

Councillors went on to demand a full feasibility study of how the proposal would affect Bridport before it was taken any further.

The Bridport Chamber of Trade, Bridport Market Traders Association and campaign group 38 Degrees have also officially voiced their opposition to the move, which has been labelled "a nail in the coffin" for Bridport businesses.

Traders are also concerned about proposals which would see DCC claiming compensation from Bridport Town Council for "loss of income" whenever market stalls occupied parking bays – currently every Wednesday and Friday – which they fear would lead to increased charges for stallholders.

Dorset County Council insists the plans – which are at the consultation stage – would improve traffic circulation and provide more parking spaces for shoppers, and denies market traders would suffer as a result.

Matthew Piles – overseeing the "pre-consultation" about the scheme, already rolled out in towns such as Dorchester and Swanage – insisted the plans were good for local businesses.

He said: "This traffic management is needed to keep the network moving.

"At the moment we have the problem of people staying far longer than one hour in these bays.

"We want to promote short trips so that people who want to pop into a shop or a bank can find a space.

"Businesses and residents in Swanage and Dorchester say it's been good for business.

"People are generally happy because people can park outside their shops."

But Roy Gregory, chairman of Bridport Market Traders' Association, joined Bridport's councillors in challenging DCC to provide the proof that the scheme was popular elsewhere.

He said: "We would like to see the justification that all these improvements will take place. Our information is that it has been detrimental in Dorchester and Swanage."

This issue of managing "churn" – the term used to describe the turnover of cars in parking spaces – is contentious.

A local business source in Dorchester described how there were winners and losers when ticketed on-street parking came to the town.

He told the View: "The picture is mixed. Some businesses on the outskirts of town report that it is better for them because no one parks there for more than an hour.

"But others have lost out because customers returning to their car a few minutes late find themselves with a ticket, and it puts them off coming back.

"If your overriding memory of coming to a town is getting a fine, it can't help with your impression of the experience.

He added: "Some people say all parking should be free. But having to pay for something is a sign of the times."

Mr Piles insists that no decision has been made on the scheme. The town's reaction, he says, will be relayed to DCC cabinet member for the environment Hilary Cox, who would then decide whether to proceed with the scheme or put it to council for review.

Meanwhile representatives from the Bridport Market Traders' Association, Bridport Chamber of Trade, Bridport Town Council and Dorset County Council are to hold a meeting with MP for West Dorset Oliver Letwin on September 13th to air grievances.

They will attempt to find a solution to what is fast becoming a symbol of Bridport's struggle to remain a fiercely independent, and free-to-park, alternative market town.

SAUL Kelleher grew up in Warwick, emigrating with his family to South Africa aged 14. After graduating in Durban and getting married he opened a live music venue which he ran for five years before switching careers and training to become a barrister.

Shortly after being admitted to the South African Bar, Saul was held up at gunpoint, prompting him to take his young family to England where, over two years, he converted his South African qualifications to enable him to work as a solicitor in the UK. He worked for two large provincial firms before opening, and becoming director of the Bridport office of the Commercial Law Practice Ltd.

The 41-year-old has four children and plays for North Dorset Rugby Club.

■ WHY is commercial law important to get right?

Law is about creating certainty and with commercial law where there is uncertainty there will almost inevitably be dispute. If you ensure that you understand the clients' needs and reflect those needs in the work that you do, it will enable a client to proceed with certainty in its business dealings and avoid disputes with the inevitable costs consequences.

■ CAN people draw up agreements themselves?

I would strongly advise against individuals drawing up their own agreements. If something is of sufficient importance to reduce it into writing then it is important enough to spend the money necessary to have that agreement drawn up by a solicitor. I cannot tell you how many times I have sat with a client who did not think that matters would turn out the way that they did.

■ WHY has the practice expanded into Bridport?

I have an existing client base and very much felt that there was a place in Bridport for a fresh approach to legal services. My assistant Sarah and I are very approachable and we are more than happy to see people when they walk through our door. We are very clear about our costs and what we will do and strive to deliver the results desired within the time set out and at the cost quoted. We will always take clients' calls and, in short, we have stripped out the stiffness associated with solicitors from the practice.

■ HAVE you had any strange requests in your profession?

I was called on site to a dispute involving the construction of a conservatory to find it surrounded by a pond of water. The defence that it had been constructed properly fell away quite quickly and the matter was resolved, but I still look at the pictures occasionally when I am feeling down.

■ HOW important is rugby to you?

I have always played rugby, playing for Natal University and as captain of North Dorset Rugby Club. I still play and I have been on a push to get fit enough to play to a reasonable level this year. I have always loved the bond created between people who play rugby together and the way that, however hard a game is, everything is left on the field.

■ WHAT is the most memorable game of rugby you've seen?

I watched the 1995 World Cup Final between South Africa and New Zealand in a hostel in Tel Aviv, Israel. The room was divided with South Africans on one side and New Zealanders on the other. The atmosphere was strained, particularly when the power failed just before full time. When the power came back on it was extra time and probably the most exciting finish because of what it meant to South Africa to win.

■ YOUR family is important to you - do you get together often?

We spend a lot of time together and the house is always busy. Everyone mucks in and there are always friends coming around and staying. We like to do outdoor activities, but try not to rely on anything too structured. An active day is best concluded with the family and friends having a drink in the garden.

■ WHAT is your earliest memory?

I remember just having moved into an old terraced house and my parents had spent all the money purchasing the house. Instead of borrowing a lawn mower they began cutting the lawn with kitchen scissors. My parents are extremely practical, running a smallholding in France, and I am sure they would claim that the grass was too long for a mower, but that is not how I remember it.

■ WHAT objects do you always carry with you?

I carry a coin with the back and front half of a rhino on its sides. It is useful to resolve disagreements and it is not weighted as some might claim.

■ WHAT is your favourite journey?

I love the drive down to Cornwall and that moment when the landscape changes and becomes almost mystical. There is a beach called Greenaway Beach just outside of Rock and that is my favourite place in the world. When I go to Cornwall I know I will spend time there and that makes the trip exciting.

Tributes paid to Bridport's 'Mr Helper'

TRIBUTES are pouring in for a Bridport man described as 'Mr Helper' who has passed away suddenly.

Cliff Casstles MBE, who died on August 25th, was described as a well known character around Bridport. He was a committee member of many of the town's voluntary organisations, three of which he was still treasurer of when he died.

He was an industrious fundraiser for the Bridport Branch of the Royal Naval Association, of which he was a full member, in spite of his increasing poor health.

For many years he was a member of the Bridport Disabled club and was on the local Sports Council for several years.

Mr Casstles was a life-long supporter of the Sea Cadets which he joined when he was 11, going on to be awarded the Cadet Forces Medal for over 12 years continuous commissioned service.

He became a partner in the Agricultural and retail suppliers H.C. Bartlett Ltd, in the early 90s after working for them since arriving in Bridport.

After the company was sold, Cliff's health deteriorated but he continued his work with his beloved organisations, especially the Sea Cadets.

His work with this organisation was recognised in the 2003 New Year's Honours List by the award of the Member of the Most Excellent Order of the British Empire (MBE).

Clifford Wallace Casstles was born in 1938 in Manchester, spending the first eight years in an orphanage before being adopted by Elsie and Wallace Casstles.

During the time in the orphanage a building fire caused smoke damage to his lungs.

After finishing school he went to work in Timsons shoe repair shop, before undertaking his National Service in the Royal Army Medical Corps.

On completion of the service he went to work with the Reynolds Chain Company until he moved to Bridport in the early 70s to be near his adoptive auntie and his cousins.

Cliff married Anne on her birthday on March 25th 1972.

Around this time he joined Bartletts in the accounts department. He worked his way up to become the general manager and finally a partner.

During his time at the company he endeavoured to help young people with their future by organising apprenticeships, as well as helping the farming community.

In his own words, the highlight of his life was being presented with the MBE by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales in July 2003.

Best friend Peter Bowditch said many people would miss Mr Casstles.

He said: "Cliff was Mr Helper – he would give you the shirt off his back to help."

"There isn't a farmer in 20 miles of Bridport who doesn't owe him a debt of gratitude. He held back bills and told them to pay when they could.

"He was a generous, helpful and kind-hearted man."

Friend Alan Kidson described Mr Casstles as "A man of many talents."

He continued: "But what shone through was his humanity and love of his fellows. Generous, sometimes to a fault, he will be greatly missed by the Bridport community whom he served so well."

He is survived by Anne his wife of 41 years.

Cliff Casstles' funeral is to be held at St Swithuns Church on Tuesday, September 10th at from 11:30am.

Diver with the bends airlifted

A DIVER in West Bay has been airlifted to hospital suffering a suspected case of the bends.

The man had made a rapid ascent from the seabed to the surface after which he showed symptoms of decompression sickness.

The diver – who is in his 60s – was airlifted to Poole Hospital by the coastguard where he was treated by a specialist dive doctor.

Decompression sickness occurs when dissolved gases inside the body come out of solution and form bubbles causing severe pain in the joints, itching and a rash.

Bridport needs your vote in Countryfile poll to find nation's best market town

BRIDPORT has been gripped with election fever following the announcement that it has been short-listed to find the nation's best market town.

The competition – run by Countryfile.com, the online version of the magazine which accompanies the BBC television show – lists Bridport as one of ten towns nominated.

The magazine's travel writer Brigid Benson cites Bridport's "high quality of local food producers at bustling markets and an annual food festival."

Following the news, Twitter and Facebook erupted with pleas to vote Bridport into top spot, with Dorset AONB, Watershed PR, and local businesses such as Groves Nurseries and The Stables all clamouring to drum up votes.

County councillor for Bridport, Ros Kayes, believes that winning the competition would be "huge" for the town.

She said: "A whole range of community organisations have been developing an array of high quality cultural activities in the town... and have been sharing the qualities of our unique town far and wide over the last three or four years.

She continued: "It's great to get a result, but it would be even better to win. The impact on our local economy would be huge.

"It would be a tremendous fillip to us if Bridport were to get the top spot nationally in the poll."

Sarah Williams, leader of Bridport Town Council, said: "It is fantastic news that Bridport has been recognised as one of the top ten market towns in Britain.

"It is particularly pleasing that this refers to our local food producers and retailers, as well as the vibrancy and variety of our market.

"The town deserves this accolade and I very much hope that everyone will take this opportunity to vote for Bridport in the next stage."

You can vote for Bridport at www.countryfile.com/countryside/britain's-favourite-market-town

Family of A35 accident victim remembers 'wonderful' Rosie

THE family of a woman who died following a car crash on the A35 has spoken of the devastation that accompanies the loss of a "wonderful wife, mother, daughter, sister and friend."

Rosemary Evans – a 48-year-old mother from Poole – suffered serious injuries when the caravan-towing Land Rover Discovery she was travelling in lost control and left the road near Askerswell.

The car – which was being driven by her husband Michael Evans – rolled several times before coming to rest.

Mrs Evans was airlifted to Southampton General Hospital but died later of her injuries.

Mr Evans, and their 11-year-old son Josh, who was also a passenger, escaped without serious injury.

In a statement issued via Dorset Police, Mrs Evans' family said: "From the moment we heard this terrible news, the family has been devastated and our hearts go out to Rosie's husband, Mike, and son, Josh.

"Rosie was such a wonderful wife, mother, daughter, sister and friend – losing her has left a hole in our hearts and our lives that we will never be able to fill.

"So many nice things have been said about Rosie since the accident and there have been some lovely tributes posted on the internet. The family would like to thank those people for all their kind words.

"We would now ask that we are left alone for a period and given some time to deal with the aftermath of this terrible tragedy."

Youth choir needs you

A YOUTH choir is looking for talented young singers from across Dorset.

Open to singers aged 11 to 18, Dorset Youth Voices is a county choir, set up by the Dorset Music Service.

DMS head Nichola Pendlebury said: "There are no auditions, but we need young people with good voices, who love to sing and would enjoy working towards a big concert each year - and have a lot of fun in the process."

"Ultimately, we want to create a strong, professional-standard choir that will form the vocal core of our next big concert at the Royal Albert Hall - planned for 2017."

"Dorset has nine well-established county music groups - from the 50-strong County Youth Orchestra, to smaller string and wind ensembles, as well as the junior concert bands and groups whose members work their way up to join the senior orchestras."

"Dorset Youth Voices is aiming to do for vocalists what the orchestras do for instrumentalists."

Dorset County Council's cabinet member for education, Councillor Toni Coombs, said: "Dorset Youth Voices provides a wonderful opportunity for young people to get together and sing for fun, and also to work towards a high-profile public performance."

Museum tips its hat to festival

BRIDPORT Museum is staging another exhibition this autumn to celebrate the town's popular hat festival (which takes place this weekend - see page 10).

The exhibition runs until November 2nd when the museum closes for the 2013 season.

The museum is delighted to once again borrow some more hats from the collection of Jay Ann Knox.

As Dorset has so many beautiful beaches, Jay has decided to make this year's theme 'Beside the Seaside, Beside the Sea - A Visit to the Seaside in Hats', and she hopes to evoke many happy memories for visitors.

The hats on display will include six quirky swimming hats as well as straw hats by designers such as Howard Hodge and John Frederics. Entrance to the museum and the exhibition is free.

A museum spokesperson said: "This is an amazing opportunity to see part of an incredible collection, not to be missed."

Jay is also appealing for anyone who has one of the old style 'Kiss Me Quick' hats from the 50s, 60s or 70s cluttering up their loft to get in touch, as she would dearly love to add one to her collection.

She can be contacted through her Facebook page www.facebook.com/MarthasModesMillinery

What can we do about the balsam menace?

■ IN YOUR article on the balsam battle, the Himalayan Balsam takes over everywhere.

All along the riverbanks, hedges - look at Beaminster Tunnel: you can see why it took so long to do the work that was done on both sides; it was covered in it, and will be again if left.

It covers our native plants; the seeds are spring loaded if touched by anything which is good for the balsam but nothing else.

Sellout crowds for thoroughly

SELL-out crowds were left thoroughly mesmerised when Bridport Musical Theatre Company brought their latest offering to the arts centre for five nights.

'Thoroughly Modern Millie' charts the romantic trials of a young female go-getter determined to embrace the new social and economic freedoms afforded women in the early 20th century.

It's 1922 and Millie (Emma Foulsham) has escaped small-town Kansas to hunt for a rich husband in New York City where working, drinking, smoking women ('flappers') were daring to claim a slice of the American pie by marrying into money – and having fun while they tried.

Review by Chris Denne

Finding herself penniless straight off the bat, Millie doesn't so much as join the flappers as lead their charge.

Millie's aspirational, infectious determination astounds all she meets, from the down-and-out actresses of the Hotel Priscilla, run by the sinister Mrs Meers (Mo Kennedy) to the girls of a typing pool (led by Jodi Glover), and their boss Trevor Graydon III (Ally Hughes) whom Millie sees as a perfectly wealthy future husband.

Along the way our heroine befriends secret millionaire Miss Dorothy (Lauren Glover), determined to imbibe a dose of reality by slumming it for a while and the pair agree to help each other.

However, Millie's mission to marry into money hits a snag when she encounters a charismatic but apparently broke straight-talker (Tom Matthews) and she is forced to choose between her modern obsession with making it rich and the supposedly old fashioned notion of marrying for love.

While the ensuing Shakespearean love tangles are highly entertaining, added intrigue and jeopardy is introduced via an extraordinary plotline which sees the faux-Chinese Mrs Meers kidnapping the girls of the Hotel Priscilla and selling them as sex slaves in Hong Kong, with Millie's new 'BFF' Miss Dorothy the next target.

The difficulty here is that while Mo Kennedy's vamping villainy is one of the show's highlights, and while Dylan Hanby and Greg Horton – who play her sidekicks – astonish the audience by learning all their lines – songs and all – in Chinese dialects, it feels a bit left-field to be suddenly faced with enforced prostitution in the middle of a show with such a comic tone and borderline pantomime oriental characters.

This storyline taps into the widespread belief in the 1920s that innocent white American girls from impoverished rural areas were being kidnapped to become sex slaves in far-flung lands.

Vestiges of this notion may well have lingered on in 1967 when the original film version of 'Thoroughly...' was released, but by the 2002 stage adaptation it was surely understood that the complete opposite was true: that in the 1920s – as now – it was young girls from places like China who were, and are, exploited by customers in the West.

It seems strange that in adapting the story – which the Bridport Musical Theatre Company would not have been allowed to tamper with – the writers of the stage show could not have been a little more thorough – and a little more modern – and adjusted the story, or the tone, accordingly.

This caveat aside, this was a lively, entertaining production, seamlessly brought together by a cast bursting with talent and well drilled by director Dave Swaffield.

It is rare that you cannot fault anyone on stage but that was the case here – every performer from principals to supporting cast pulled out all the stops.

Emma Foulsham stepped into the lead role with an ease which made commanding the stage in a pared-down production such as this look simple. It is not.

Ally Hughes looks and feels like a star, managing to own the hugely impressive number 'The Speed Test'.

This extended routine involving Hughes and virtually the entire female cast was worth the ticket price alone.

Jodi Glover – in multiple roles – is looking more effortlessly complete every time we see her.

Meanwhile Lauren Glover, playing Miss Dorothy, once again left us questioning her performance. The question being: why on earth aren't you doing this for a living?

Increase in rare butterfly sightings

A LEADING wildlife conservation organisation has reported a spike in rare butterflies sightings in Dorset.

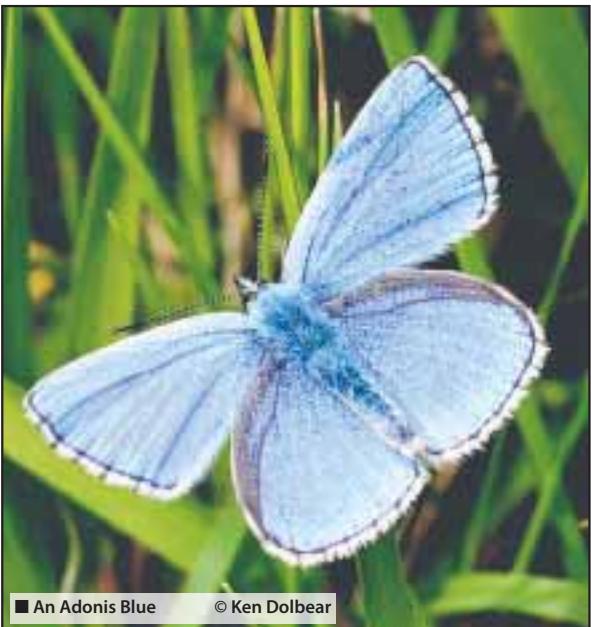

Dorset Wildlife Trust (DWT) has found a record number of a rare butterfly species on the Upton Heath nature reserve.

DWT volunteers counted more than 100 Silver Studded Blues in just a few hours – a new record for the site.

by Chris Denne
chris@pemedia.co.uk

After the announcement by Sir David Attenborough earlier in the year that UK butterfly numbers were at an all-time low, the warm start to the summer has provided a much needed boost to butterfly populations.

Bill Shreeve, from the Butterfly Conservation, said: "The best performer has been the dark green fritillary – the combined annual average count for this year is 728, a 373 per cent increase."

"On Fontmell Down the average count since 1980 has been 20 and this year was up to 443."

Upton Heath and Fontmell Down are not the only reserves where butterflies are thriving with DWT's Tout Quarries on Portland also seeing increases.

DWT has also reported sightings of the calcareous form of the Silver Studded Blue, which is unique to Portland.

Sam Hamer, DWT Conservation Officer, said: "The butterflies have definitely appreciated the warmer start to the summer this year, and we have already seen a significant increase in the numbers of many different species."

"At Tout Quarries, Chalkhill Blues, Adonis Blues, and even Small Blues have all been doing really well."

To help DWT monitor butterflies and other wildlife in your garden and local green space, the public can take part in its Wildlife On Your Doorstep project www.dwt.org.uk/wildlife-on-your-doorstep

Colfox head rues GCSE changes

THE head teacher of the Sir John Colfox School has described the difficulties posed by changes surrounding GCSE examinations.

In spite of posting GCSE results she describes as "excellent", Colfox head teacher Kay Taylor has been critical of changes made to the examinations.

She said: "We had been told that GCSE results were lower nationally, particularly in English, Maths and Science."

"While our English Language results did drop slightly this year, our Maths improved by 16 per cent and our Science also showed a slight rise on last year."

"It is becoming increasingly difficult to prepare students for exams and predict what they are likely to achieve when there is constant change each year."

She continued: "Many students worked really hard for these results and they should be proud of their achievement."

"As a comprehensive school we are delighted with the results across the ability range."

"Obviously we are pleased for those with the top results but we are equally as delighted for those students who worked so hard to achieve the grades they need to go on to college courses and apprenticeships."

Furleigh at Food Rocks festival

FURLEIGH Estate, the award-winning vineyard and winery in Salway Ash, is bringing their wines to the Mark Hix Food Rocks festival in aid of the RNLI.

The aim of the event is to raise funds for the RNLI as well as giving everyone the chance to enjoy some amazing food and to learn from our local chefs and producers.

The talk and tasting is at 3pm on Saturday, September 8th and will describe how the Furleigh team grows, produces and bottles wine all at source – the only wine-maker in Dorset to do so.

The festival takes place between 10am and 4pm on Saturday September 7th and Sunday September 8th in a marque at the By The Bay restaurant in Lyme Regis.

Freshwater panto group to hold auditions

YOUNGSTERS hoping for a turn in the limelight are being invited to audition for a new pantomime production coming to Freshwater Holiday Park.

A brand new run of 'Jack and the Beanstalk' will appear at the Burton Bradstock resort in December, with auditions to be held for young performers next week.

The Freshwater entertainments team will be running a Panto's Got Talent audition date on September 14th, where youngsters aged between five and 17-years-old can try out for parts.

The pantomime is to be produced by Freshwater Beach Holiday Park and directed by entertainments manager, Drew Baker.

He said: "We are extremely lucky to have the very talented [Britain's Got Talent finalist] Kai Widdrington playing the star part of Jack and I am sure we will attract some keen young actors and dancers who would like to be part of the show."

During the auditions the producers will also be looking for two senior girls to star in the panto.

A Freshwater spokesperson said: "This is a very exciting opportunity for local young people to work with an amazing cast brought straight from the West End of London.

"Kai Widdrington will be attending the auditions, so youngsters will have an opportunity to meet him."

Schedule Sat Sep 14th
5-10 year olds: 10am, registration; 10:30-11:30am, audition.

11-14 year olds: 12noon, registration; 12:30-1:30pm audition.

15-18 year olds: 2pm, registration; 2:30-3:30pm, audition.

New driving course on offer to Dorset seniors

DORSET drivers aged 75 years or over are being offered the chance to sharpen their driving skills free of charge.

The Road Safety partnership pilot scheme 'Dorset Driver Gold' aims to update drivers' knowledge and improve their expertise and confidence on the road.

The scheme has two parts. The first is a theory course which is organised by Dorset County Council. It does not involve driving and is run by road safety professionals in venues across the county.

The second part is a practical driving observation. There are two of these sessions six months apart, to assess retained knowledge, skills and confidence. The drives are observed by an advanced driving instructor and will take 90 minutes to complete.

Emma Selway, county council's Road Safety Team, said: "We'd like to reassure volunteers that this is not a test of your skills and knowledge but an opportunity for you to benefit from free driver training and for us to learn how successful the course is in achieving its aims."

Hilary Cox, the county council's cabinet member for environment, said: "Living life to the full in rural Dorset means that many people rely on their cars for access to towns for social activities and health appointments.

"This scheme is designed to ensure that driving skills are refreshed. Having the opportunity to be assessed by an advanced instructor and being updated on changes to the Highway Code since passing the test is an opportunity not to be missed."

To sign up and be part of this new project visit www.dorsetforyou.com/roadsafety/gold or email road.safety@dorsetcc.gov.uk or call 01305 224558.

Trio to debate marine conservation at the Palace

THREE of the UK's best-known writers about the sea will be discussing five years of marine conservation in Lyme Bay.

George Monbiot, Dr Philip Hoare and Callum Roberts are coming to the Electric Palace to debate what five years of Marine Protected Area status in Lyme Bay has meant for local sea life.

Their debate – which costs £7 to attend – promises to be "informed by the current science and the best literature, past and present, on this subject".

A spokesman for the event – organised by Lectures on Everything – said: "The present government is trying to withdraw support from much of what was envisaged five years ago.

"A Marine Protected Area in Lyme Bay is quite compatible, apparently, with removing 600 tonnes of whelks per year, mainly for sale to the Far East.

"No Take Zones, tried and tested in New Zealand, Scotland and the Isle of Man, have been systematically kept out of the discussion in England.

"You are invited to join us in Bridport for the debate which the official culture doesn't want to have."

Copies of the trio's most recent books ('Feral', 'The Sea Inside' and 'Ocean of Life') are available at Bridport Books, in Buckydoo Square, and on the evening at the Electric Palace.

Join George Monbiot, Philip Hoare and Callum Roberts in discussion at Bridport's Electric Palace, on Tuesday, September 17th, from 8pm.

■ RAFA members along with a quarter size model Spitfire at the Brew for a Few Event

Big support for RAFA brew

MEMBERS of Royal Air Forces Association have thanked the generosity of those who attended their 'Brew for a Few' fundraising event in West Bay.

The Salt House played host to the event – with a quarter-scale working model Spitfire on display outside.

The highlight of the afternoon was a fly-by courtesy of a C-130K Hercules, which flew over the heads of the assembled members and visitors right on time.

Due to be decommissioned, it was perhaps one of the last chances to see this type of aeroplane in flight.

Event organiser Alan Kidson said: "We had a great day... we will be able to pass a substantial amount to the Wings Appeal."

"We had a considerable number of ex-servicemen and women who introduced themselves to us.

"One lady was particularly taken by the bouncing bomb trial film. It appears that she was a first cousin to Guy Gibson V.C.

"The quarter-scale Spitfire drew a lot of attention and we were thankful to Chris Hornby for bringing it to the event.

"The children and some fathers (and grandfathers) enjoyed the recognition test and also the general knowledge quiz.

"Many teas and biscuits were sold, as well as cake, which was all generously donated for the day.

"I was also pleased that all of the helpers seemed to enjoy the day and would like to thank them publicly."

BRIDPORT is gearing up for its annual ode to headwear – the Bridport Hat Festival.

Now in its fourth year, the festival – organised by West Street hat seller Roger Snook and his committee – promises to be as enthusiastically attended as ever.

The attractions kick off at the arts centre on Friday evening (September 6th) with festival patron Hank Wangford and the Lost Cowboys.

Hank returns for Saturday's (September 7th) mass hatted gathering – the festival highlight – when the town centre is closed to traffic to allow all those weird and wonderful hats to bump brim to brim and celebrate.

Prior to the giant hat-wearing photoshoot at lunchtime in Buckydoo Square, winners will be chosen from the crowd for the best hats amongst the adults and children.

This year there are new awards for most elegantly-hatted couple and best hatted dog.

The competition for serious hat makers, the Milliners and Hatters Open, crowns the day with its top prize of £500.

Other Saturday attractions will include live music in Bucky Doo and Millennium Green, where further activities including a classic car display and the inaugural Bridport Hat-Hurling Challenge are planned.

In St Michael's Trading Estate artists and antique dealers will be putting on what organisers call "more hat-centric diversions".

Visitors can enjoy exhibitions at venues including Bridport museum, and talks at the Bull Hotel led by Roger Snook himself.

The Open Competition awards will be presented late on Saturday

by Chris Denne
chris@pemedia.co.uk

afternoon before the festival is rounded off by a bhangra band (complete with turban-tying competition) back in the arts centre.

Hat stands alongside food and refreshment stalls are set to complete the picture.

The street collection this year will see profits go to Brain Tumour Research and the Brain Injury Rehabilitation Trust.

To find out more visit bridporthatfest.org, or keep up via Facebook and Twitter.

Massive turnout for Symene Fair

SYMONDSBURY cricket club welcomed thousands to its annual fair and car boot sale as crowds flocked to what is believed to be the biggest event of its type in the county.

Organisers of the Symene Show described the number of visitors as "unbelievable".

straw, a coconut shy and bungee bouncers were just a few of the attractions.

Hugely popular were the ferrets of Kingston Maurwood College.

Under the care of animal management tutor Jo Scott and her son Mark, the fleet-footed mammals entertained the crowds in racing courses, while meeting fans more closely between races.

Vintage motorcycles were provided courtesy of the South Dorset Vintage Motorcycle Club, while children were kept entertained with Punch and Judy.

Steve Smith and his roadshow kept the crowds dancing while martial arts experts demonstrated the art of self defence.

Event organiser for the past 27 years Richard Balson – who opened the show alongside Miss Teen Dorset, Jade Coombs – said he was very pleased with the day.

He said: "It's unbelievable, really – fantastic. I don't think we could get any more in – it's pretty full up."

"The money raised goes towards keeping the cricket club going and also supports the Mark Broad Memorial Fund which helps youngsters out with the cost of sporting activities.

He added: "Thanks to everyone who helped, thanks to all the sponsors, the stalls, and of course to everyone who came along.

"It just gets bigger and better."

Folk Festival, THANKYOU!

Last weekend was Lyme Regis at its best! Plenty for everyone, all ages and interests!

Some of Clarondene's Residents had a wonderful experience on Saturday along the Cart Road, fascinated by the fun being had by locals and gr alike. Grumpy visiting drivers aside, it was a simply splendid event and I am looking forward to next year already. What a busy, happy place we live in. Thank you to the few who put so much energy into the life of this unique town.

Respite Stay, anyone?

We have a spare room at the moment for anyone who would like a rest and pamper after the hectic summer. The room looks out across Lyme with a view of the sea. "The kettle's always on!"

- Daily activities and community involvement, entertainment and outings on a frequent basis
- 24 Hour personalised care with owner in residence
- Regular visits by nurses, opticians, chiropodist, faith groups and hairdressers
- Permanent, respite and day care packages for both privately and socially funded residents

Join us for TEA & CHAT

This coming Wednesday 11th September will be the third TEA & CHAT open session in the Langmore Room of the Shelters on Marine Parade hosted by Clarondene. We will be there from 2pm until 4pm, and anyone, especially over the age of 60yrs, is welcome to join us. Now it will be easier to get there without the thronging visitors, we hope to enjoy ourselves even more with maybe a sing-song, maybe some games, some reminiscence, lots of laughter and of course – tea and cake! We have the use of the lift and disabled toilet and if it is sunny, the terrace to sit out on. It really is a lovely facility, a super spot to sit and watch, and fun to just meet and relax with the panorama of Lyme Bay, the fresh air and the antics of the passers-by to entertain us. We hope to see you there, you will be very welcome.

Those Spanish Señoritas!!

We have had the pleasure of a two weeks' visit from my granddaughter Sofia together with her life-friend Maria, so if you have seen 2 beautiful 16 yr old Spanish girls around the town lately, that's who they were. They have been helping out around the house, Sofia has entranced the residents with her flute playing, and Maria has polished up her English, which was amazingly proficient anyway. Apparently I knew Maria when she was first born in Competa, Malaga Province, when my second daughter settled there at the age of 19, forty-four years ago now. The girls came with the impression that street life does not occur in England as it does in Andalucia – WELL DONE, LYME REGIS, YOU SHOWED 'EM!

Fran gets on her hiking boots for charity walk

A WOMAN from Bridport is walking 50km in memory of her cousin who died earlier this year. Fran Salix-Alba is hiking from Runnymede to Henley – the 'Thames Path' – to raise money for Bridport Arts Centre and the Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance.

The 50-year-old – a full time carer for her 92-year-old mother who works part time in a Bridport sandwich shop – said her cousin would have approved of raising money for the DSAA.

She said: "Bobby was a big supporter of the air ambulance. I'm also raising money for the Bridport Arts Centre because they are so brilliant and do so much for the local community."

Fran's target is £2,000 to be shared between the two organisations. She plans to undertake the walk on September 14th. Anyone who would like to donate should visit justgiving.com/teams/fran-salixalba and choose which cause to support.

'Rag doll' fundraiser makes more than £400

A FUNDRAISING weekend to help fight a rare condition that causes sudden serious muscle fatigue has raised more than £400.

The funds are to be added to money already raised to go towards the Cough Assist Machine for Poole Hospital on behalf of the Myasthenia Gravis Association.

The so-called 'Rag Doll' illness can leave sufferers collapsed on the floor or even unable to breathe unassisted.

The bingo evening organised by Lyn Hatch and her husband Tony was hailed as a great success.

Mrs Hatch said: "Our bingo evening in Bridport was a great success – 35 people enjoyed the calling and 'banter' ably supplied by my son and daughter Emma and James.

"Between the bingo, raffle and tea sales £339 was raised on the night.

"The raffle table and bingo prizes were donated by family, friends and local businesses.

"We would like to say a massive thank you to Timepiece of Gillingham, Longs, Good News, Chantelles, Ninas, Co-op, Bradpole PO, Smith & Smith, Olive Tree, Riverside of West Bay, Chris Butler, Linda Harvey, Mo Kennedy and John & Veda Bull.

"Once again thanks so much to everyone who attended and supported us, and to all my willing helpers."

A further £65 was also raised the following day at the Syme Fete.

Homes & Interiors

Boost your bedrooms

ONE of the best ways to make your home more suited to your needs, especially if you have a growing family or want to work from home, is to add a bedroom.

Increasing the number of bedrooms can also put your home in a different price bracket when you come to sell.

The most obvious place to put an extra bedroom is upstairs, with all the others, and sometimes it's possible to use the space you already have.

For example, if the main bedroom spans the front of the house, you may be able to divide it in two, as long as each room has its own, separate window. This may not be as satisfactory as adding space, but it can work well if your home's big enough and you're on a limited budget.

When you come to sell, remember that couples and sharers will probably be looking for good-sized double bedrooms, while families may be happier to have more, smaller bedrooms if it means one for each child.

When re-jigging the existing space isn't an option, consider converting the loft into a bedroom or bedrooms instead. If you can also fit a bathroom or shower room up there, and built-in storage, you've created the perfect master or guest suite.

The cheapest and easiest loft conversions are ones with sky-lights (eaves conversions), as the line of the roof is unchanged. However, this isn't ideal if the loft has limited space.

Building out the roof to create more useable space inside is often necessary, which means a (more expensive and complicated) dormer, mansard or hip-to-gable conversion.

The pitch of the roof can make a big difference to how useable the space is - some lofts don't have enough head height to make the conversion worthwhile unless you lower the ceilings in the rooms below. This is a big and expensive job and won't be practical if the ceilings are already quite low.

You also need room for a good-sized staircase up to the loft on the floor below and if this means losing a bedroom, you may not gain much by converting the loft.

Building regulations for loft conversions are very strict about having a safe means of escape in the event of a fire, so it's not necessarily the easiest way to add an extra bedroom.

Creating a downstairs bedroom, and preferably a bathroom or shower room next to it, can work better, providing your home's layout is suitable.

Ground-floor extensions are usually used to add kitchen, dining and living space, but they can include bedrooms.

A two-storey extension is often better because you can create extra living space downstairs and bedrooms upstairs and it should be cheaper than doing a ground-floor extension and a loft conversion, but two-storey extensions aren't always easy to do with our planning system.

Another way to add a bedroom is converting your home's garage (or outbuildings) into one. If the garage is mostly used for storage and the stuff can be stored elsewhere, the garage may be more useful and valuable as a bedroom, as long as it's converted properly and sympathetically.

To get the best of both worlds, you could put a bedroom on top of the garage, if there's space to build above it and for a new corridor on the first floor.

Malabar Trading

AS the autumn slowly begins and the nights are a little cooler it may be time to be eating something more substantial than salads. Be inspired by the French baking dishes at Malabar Trading which are very good indeed. The family owned company Terafeu was started just over 100 years ago in the Basque country where the clay is particularly good for making cooking vessels. The deep sided baking dishes can be used for all sorts of delicious meals, think of slow cooking chickens or other birds, brisket or mutton.

It may be cool enough soon to revert back to one's duvet, after a glorious time of sleeping only under a sheet and a cotton filled quilt, and there are lovely blockprinted duvet covers in the shop, made of soft Indian cotton, with pillowcases to match.

Autumn is also the time when new and exciting stock starts to come into the shop. As ever many of the items are exclusive to the shop and many will be unique pieces.

Lighten your mood

BELIEVE it or not, lighting has a major effect on the mood and design of your home. It can make your home bright and cheery or dark and romantic. It can make you feel relaxed, comfortable or inspired to complete a task. You can help your home reach its full aesthetic potential by choosing the correct lighting fixtures. Choosing the right home lighting for your home starts with knowing the basics.

Chandeliers add sparkle and style to your dining room while giving you the general lighting you need for dining and entertaining. Chandeliers are also used in bedrooms, foyers and great rooms. Some chandeliers are designed with down lights to provide task lighting or as accent for table settings. Chandeliers are available in both incandescent and ENERGY STAR® fluorescent light sources. Adding a dimmer control, chandelier shades and chandelier glass lets you alter the intensity of light to suit the mood and activity.

Wall-mounted fixtures typically take the form of sconces that match a chandelier, ceiling fixture or pendant. They can deliver general, task or accent lighting and transform a functional room or hallway into a cozy retreat or dramatic passageway.

Pendant lighting can provide both task and general lighting. Equipped with shades or globes to avoid glare, they are typically suspended from the ceiling over dining room tables, game tables, countertops or other work areas. The use of dimmers gives you the flexibility to vary the light to suit the occasion and task.

Recessed ceiling fixtures or can lights, consist of housing installed within the ceiling, a lamp and a small bit of trim to cover the hardware. If you want your lighting to be unobtrusive rather than decorative, this is the way to go. Recessed lighting can easily provide general, task or accent lighting for large areas.

Track Lighting is versatile and adaptable and allows you to configure a custom lighting scheme to meet your unique, individual needs. Track lighting is perfect for highlighting artwork, collections or architectural details and it can also provide general or task illumination for an entire room.

Flower and dog show still a hit 100 years on

WHEN it comes to pedigree, the flower and dog Show at Whitchurch Canonicorum is hard to top.

For more than a century – this was the 101st event – the village has brought people together in an annual village fete with this year's attendance described as 'fantastic' by organisers.

Prizes were awarded for flowers, produce, arts and crafts and dogs in a variety of categories at what is officially listed as the Whitchurch, Morcombelake and Ryall Flower and Dog Show.

Katherine Townsend, organiser of the dog show, said she was pleased by the number of entries, with the crowds helping local causes.

She said: "We've had a lot of entries – up on last year."

"The money goes to local charities. The church tower and bell fund have benefitted in the past."

"The committee gets together in October to decide exactly where the money goes."

Show chairman Paul White was also happy with the day.

He said: "I'm very pleased with the turnout, very pleased. Last year was a wet year but this year is much better - people are a lot happier."

"I'm very pleased with the way its gone. It's well supported by the local community."

"It is very important – it brings everyone together for a social day out. We can all exchange our exhibits for people to see it's just a good atmosphere."

"It's been fantastic."

THE GUITAR GODDESS

Award-winning blues star Chantel McGregor to play the Electric Palace

IMAGINE the tone of Robin Trower, the inspiration of Hendrix, the influence of Stevie Ray Vaughan, the energy of Bonamassa, the intensity of Walter Trout and the haunting vocal of Stevie Nicks all rolled into one - welcome to Chantel McGregor, one of the most exciting rock and blues musicians that the UK has ever produced!

At the age of eight Chantel became the youngest person in the country to pass a Rock school exam and at 12, she was jamming in her native Bradford and evolving into an incredible musician.

Described as a prodigy, at 14 Chantel was told by major labels "great voice, but girls don't play guitar like that!". Wisely ignoring that advice, she enrolled at the world-renowned Leeds College of Music and became the first student in the college's history, to achieve a 100% pass mark, with 18 distinctions. Chantel left with a First Class Honours degree in Popular Music and a coveted prize, for outstanding musicianship.

Chantel has since stepped out in the pro-musician world and her stunning live performances are proving that this is rock blues for the new age, played by a musician born with an effortless virtuosity, peppered by flights of incendiary guitar and flanked by moments of poise, grace and fluidity. When asked about performing on stage, Chantel said, "playing live to great audiences is one of the most wonderful feelings, I feel so lucky to be able to do something that I love, see the world and bring happiness to others through my music". Chantel was voted Young Artist of the Year, in the British Blues Awards 2011, and is absolutely delighted, to have won an award for the second year running, after being voted Female Vocalist of the Year, in the British Blues Awards 2012.

Chantel McGregor plays at Bridport's Electric Palace on Wednesday, September 11th. Doors open 7pm. Tickets cost £13+bf in advance, or £15 on the door. To book tickets visit www.electricpalace.org.uk or call 01308 424901.

EXPECT a big, bold weekend of fun at Bridport Arts Centre this weekend. Hat veteran Hank Wangford will be back to open the Bridport Hat Festival on Friday, September 6th, followed by a huge, family friendly party gig from RSVP Bhangra on Saturday 7th.

Incorrigible hat lover, and three times Arts Centre sell out, Hank Wangford will be backed by the stellar Lost Cowboys. Featuring Martin Belmont guitar, BJ Cole on pedal steel, Spanner Robinson on sublime harmonies and the down and dirty Country rhythm section of Roy Dodds and Kevin Foster.

This year as a Special Guest of the Lost Cowboys Hank is proud to present Brad Breath, a Man of Many Hats, much yodeling and a rope trick or two. Brad, as Andy Roberts, has played with The World including Pink Floyd, Roy Harper, Scaffold, Liverpool Scene, Bonzo Dog and Billy Connolly.

It is rumoured that Hank will feature tracks from his new soon to be released album entirely of waltzes Save Me The Waltz alongside Hat Festival classics such as Hats Off To Roger.

RSVP Bhangra 'The West County's own Superstars' blend Eastern and Western musical influences to create an amazing live show. Every show comes with an introduction to Bhangra dance – everyone's included with RSVP's emphasis on partying Punjabi style.

Engaging, interactive and fun RSVP will bring their big Bhangra beats to the Hat Festival, so be prepared to learn some Bhangra grooves, join in the turban tying contest and party big time!

TwoManTing bring Sunshine Afro-Roots to Bridport

TWOMANTING bring Sunshine Afro-roots from Sierra Leonean master-drummer Jah-man Aggrey and UK guitarist Jon Lewis to the Bridport Arts Centre Jazz Café on Friday, September 13th.

TwoManTing was formed in 2004 when the two musicians were playing together as part of dance band, Le Cod Afrique, at events such as Montreux Jazz Festival and WOMAD.

The duo immediately became a hit on the UK festival circuit with their brand of bouncy "Sunshine Afro-roots" music. Shows have included Glastonbury, Secret Garden Party and Green Man Festival to name but a few.

Using voice, guitar, live loops and "found" percussion, the duo creates a highly danceable full band sound and their reputation has earned them recent support slots with The Oysterband, Tinariwen, Baka Beyond, Dub Colossus and Muntu Valdo. Their recordings are often featured on BBC Radio 3 and 6 Music.

Performances feature original palm-wine, highlife and acoustic dub, with thoughtful and thought-provoking lyrics in English and Krio, on subjects ranging from childhood memories, political protest and er... duvets.

The new songs are particularly concerned with the links between Bristol and Sierra Leone through the slave trade, the continuing colonialism, and the aftermath of the civil war. Aggrey and Lewis feel it's important to discuss these issues within their music, whilst still maintaining a sense of humour and an up-beat "feel-good" atmosphere.

Now based in Bristol/Coventry, TwoManTing have been touring extensively for the past 5 years, and in 2012 performed and held workshops at over 30 UK summer festivals.

TwoManTing perform at Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, September 13th at 8pm. Tickets cost £10, available online at www.bridport-arts.com or by calling 01308 424204.

Dorchester Arts autumn season of music, theatre, talks, comedy and dance...

DORCHESTER Arts has a packed autumn season of music, theatre, talks, comedy and dance. There is more drama than ever before, kindly sponsored by Batten Solicitors Charitable Trust, and there is a great range of music on offer at the intimate venue of the Arts Centre.

The season starts with '100' – a poignant show by As One / AsCend Physical Theatre which poses the question - if you had to select just one memory to take into eternity, what would you choose? This is followed by Forest Forge's new thriller/comedy 'Free Folk' inspired by the mysterious setting of the New Forest.

In October there is a series of thought provoking dramas. 'Soldiers' Wives' performed by Catherine Shipton (Duffy in BBC TV's Casualty) highlights the scars of war for those fighting and those left behind, 'Floating' is a moving play about a high dependency nurse working in the NHS and 'Gl Joe in Dorset' is a powerful story of war, prejudice and redemptive love.

Southern Tenant Folk Union

Mel Hooley's Somerleigh Players return with 'Heroes' a comedy about three World War I veterans plotting their escape from their military retirement home in France. There is family entertainment with 'Treasure Island' from Mind The Gap Theatre, with a mutiny set in a modern day supermarket, and a Christmas treat of the 'Nutcracker' from Ballet Theatre UK.

Dorchester Arts also has its fullest ever schedule of music this autumn. A new DA Blues season kicks off with Cherry Lee Mewis and there is more blues later in the season from The Proof, Catfish Keith and the Guy Tortora Duo.

Susannah Freeman in Floating

There is music from the legendary Irish singer Andy Irvine, Southern Tenant Folk Union one of the most highly acclaimed folk/bluegrass bands in the UK today, a talk on Bob Dylan and the history of rock 'n' roll by Michael Gray, folk duo Kathryn Roberts and Sean Lakeman and popular West Country musician Ruari Joseph.

As well as all this there is an evening with cricket commentator Henry Blofeld, a lecture by Daniel Bye questioning the price and value of everything, and comedy from Lucy Porter and regular comedy nights with 'Stand Up Dorchester'.

Happy Feet animator comes to Dorset County Museum

The Creative Industries as a Viable Career Path by Sofronis Efstatou, National School of Computer Animation, Bournemouth University.

THE current exhibition at Dorset County Museum, Pardoes ANIMATE!, has proved to be very popular with summer visitors. As part of its ongoing animation theme, a professional animator and lecturer at Bournemouth University is giving a talk on Thursday, September 12th at 7pm, about how Animation can become a viable career.

Sofronis Efstatou will discuss a variety of student animation projects, explaining the different types of technical and creative skills used in their creation. He will also emphasise the importance of art, maths and science in this field and explain how they can directly affect the success of an animated film. The presentation will be followed by a question and answer session.

Before becoming Programme

Leader of the MA course in 3D Computer Animation at Bournemouth University, Sofronis worked in the Film and Games industry on projects such as "Happy Feet", "300" and "Fable 2", training artists and production staff on projects that would go on to win an Oscar, a BAFTA and a Games BAFTA.

The Animate! exhibition runs until October 19th 2013.

Local musicians come together for folk and classical collaboration

TWO local emerging female musicians join forces to create an evening of unique original music that spans folk and classical.

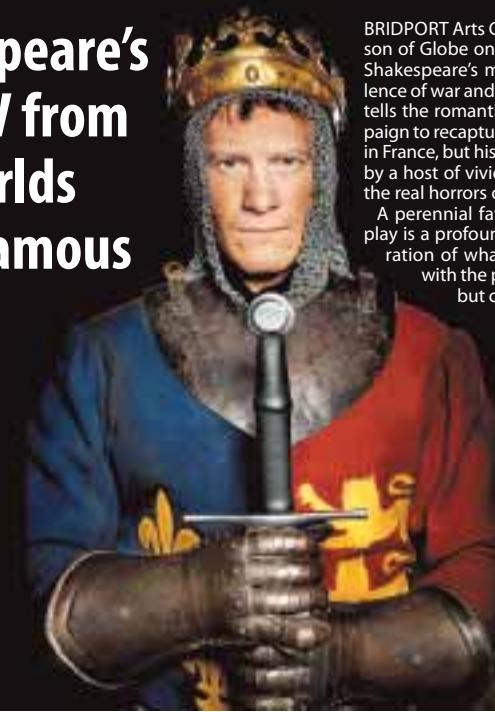

Elizabeth Hornby's evocative, cinematic solo piano music is inspired by a childhood spent growing up in West Dorset, and a love of its beauty, romance and sheer wildness. New album 'Butterfly Island' – a follow up to her first release, 2012's 'Lady of Lewesdon Hill' – further develops her ability to compose music that sings the landscape. Although nature inspired, this time the songs are more personal, minimalist and contemporary. 'Butterfly Island' forms the musical backdrop to the national tour of the 'A Graceful Death' arts exhibition, and is described by its curator Antonia Rolls as "uncomplicated, unsentimental and moving." Elizabeth's musical influences include Michael Nyman, Rachel Portman and Debussy. Live shows involve semi-improvised rolling, evolving sonatas, and confidently span the ambient and the classical.

Hailing from the London and New York alt-folk scenes, with the voice of a torch singer and a penchant for off-beat storytelling, Suzy Almond writes songs that haunt, yet somehow uplift. Appearances on 6 Music and at international festivals have honed an intimate live act, and two years as a Bridport local has given her music a new twist – with pared lyrics and a more spacious sound. Suzy is now working on her first album, supplementing her stripped down guitar-vocals with piano and strings. Influences include Richard Thompson, Thea Gilmore and Jesca Hoop.

Two Cats In Hats: Suzy Almond & Elizabeth Hornby perform at Bridport's Electric Palace on Friday, September 6th. Doors open 7pm, and performance starts at 8pm. Tickets cost £4+bf in advance, or £6 on the door (half price for Electric Friends), £2 under 18s.

For more details or to book visit the website www.electricpalace.org.uk or call Bridport TIC on 01308 424901.

Shakespeare's Henry V from the Worlds most Famous Stage

BRIDPORT Arts Centre is kicking off its season of Globe on Screen productions with Shakespeare's masterpiece of the turbulence of war and the arts of peace. Henry V tells the romantic story of the kings campaign to recapture the English possessions in France, but his ambitions are challenged by a host of vivid characters caught up in the real horrors of war.

A perennial favourite at the Globe, the play is a profound and compelling exploration of what it means to be English with the persona of the charismatic but conflicted king at its heart. It will be screened on Bridport Arts Centre's state-of-the-art digital cinema equipment, meaning you'll be able to discover the drama, laughter and magic of being at the Globe!

The screening takes place on Tuesday, September 17th, at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £12 Adult, £10 Members, £10 concs, available online at www.bridport-arts.com or call 01297 424204.

A truly unique theatre experience

THE award winning Kilter Theatre makes theatre in surprising and unusual places. And you can't get much more surprising and unusual than a bright red Luton Van on Lyme Regis seafront. Audiences will meet at the Marine Theatre before being led to the very special sorting office around the corner.

The Last Post is a slightly wonky, nostalgic love story about the wonderful dying etiquette of letter writing. Taking place inside Mobile Sorting Office 451 and interwoven with stunning live music Kilter welcome you to the legendary home and headquarters of the Great Aunt Sorority – taking care of letters and packages that cannot easily be delivered.

"...scribbled, worn, smudged, torn, incompletely addressed and completely unaddressed; letters sent in blind faith to ancient addresses of long-lost friends who have defied the allure of Facebook."

Performances take place at the Marine Theatre at 2.30pm and 7.30pm on Saturday 14th and Sunday 15th September. Tickets are limited to 17 for each performance, and cost £13 (full) and £12 (concessions). A TheatreFriends discount is available.

Interwoven Productions Present Antara

INTERWOVEN Productions are looking forward to coming to the Bridport Arts Centre on September 10th. Antara is a new production combining the extraordinary talents of Ajeesh K Balakrishnan, fresh from the Attakkalari Centre for Movement Arts in Bangalore and Exeter-based dancer Kay Crook with the words of south west writer JoJo Spinks in collaboration with urban poet Steve Duncan. In a truly intercultural collaboration Antara brings elements from across the globe here, to the south west, in a visually stunning performance.

The team feel that Bridport is just the place to bring such a celebration of diversity.

The project has particularly benefited from the Artistic Direction of Amanda Knott, who trained at the Royal Ballet and performed with Ballet Rambert before becoming Artistic Director for professional touring company Creative Cow. Amanda said:

"Antara mixes rhythmic, world-music with urban, British poetry. The combination of these evocative sounds fires the choreographic imagination and superbly underscores the poignant story of a bewildered young man. To balance the mix is my challenge and one I relish."

Producer JoJo Spinks said: "We're incredibly excited to bring our show to this great venue and were particularly keen to come to the very cultural town of Bridport. We've already been given a lovely welcome by local traders."

Check out Bridport Library for details of Indian dance demonstrations in Bridport in early September. Dance stars Ajeesh K Balakrishnan and Kay Crook are warming up to give Bridport residents a little taster of the full show, Antara.

Wonderful selection of Genuine French produce at the French Food and Craft Market in Beaminster

LE MARCHE de France has been invited to return to Beaminster in October, and bring a great range of high quality and fresh produce from all regions of France for one day for everyone to enjoy.

There will be a magnificent cheese stall with a truly enormous selection of French cheeses. Bread will be baked onsite, in front of visitors, on the new bread and patisserie stall and the smell of bread, croissants and patisseries should hopefully spread in the whole town centre. There will also be the Charcuterie with wonderful sausages, olives, Turkish delights, smoked ham and Calvados pate. Pure Butter Homemade biscuits, cakes and Ginger bread, Mustards, sauces and, of course, garlic will be on offer as well! For those with a sweet tooth, wonderful natural honeys as well the hugely popular crepes stall will be on display. If you still have a small space left after all that, the sweet stall will also be making fresh pralines, almonds and cashews on site.

And for those who like South of France, they will find soaps from Marseille, lavenders, tablecloths from Provence... Oh, La la!

The market will take place in Market Square, Beaminster on Friday, September 6th from 9-4pm.

Is the end of recession in sight?

FROM a property point of view, it's looking slightly more positive at long last! Even the news readers are giving us uplifting statistics – although these may not be as straight forward as they seem. The trouble with stats is that they can give a false impression. However, all the industry reports and whispers amongst fellow agents seem to be indicating the same thing which is that we think we are slowly turning the corner. For Gordon and Rumsby, it certainly seems that way too. We opened our new office in Colyton on 1st July and seem to have been steadily busier since then with August (usually a quieter month) being the best month this year for sales. More encouraging still is that we are talking to first time buyers – a rarity in these parts. We also hear that mortgage applications have risen so much that the mortgage valuations are developing a backlog.

In terms of prices rising, we mustn't forget that parts of London are very much leading the field here with overseas buyers snatching up very high value homes and this combined with a few small pockets of the country that are doing well pushes up the average considerably. In our small part of the country, prices are static at best and I for one, feel that any increase in asking prices at this stage could hinder progress in an improving but still fragile marketplace. It is better to ask close to what you want to achieve and bargain hard on a realistic asking price that to ask too much and not get anyone through the door. All that having been said, there are still properties that are not selling (often for minor reasons) and bargains can still be found. Many investment buyers are putting money back into bricks and mortar once again and this could be the best time to buy for a while as if things really are improving then sure as eggs is eggs, price will eventually start inching upwards again – possibly as soon as next Spring.

Once we start seeing more families on the move again, especially locally, the circle will be complete and we can safely say that we are coming out of recession. Let's hope for all our sakes, that the worst is really behind us and we can look forward to maybe not the excesses that previously caused this in the first place but certainly better times ahead.

Lanehouse Bridport helps motorists get a fresh start this autumn

EARLY September heralds the imminent arrival of a new season, and with the summer holidays having been and gone, for many it's the ideal time to embrace new beginnings, which includes a fresh start for the family car, too.

Fortunately, local Vauxhall retailer Lanehouse Bridport is on hand to ensure that cars are ship-shape for autumn, by offering a range of complimentary and great-value services.

Complimentary vehicle health check

After taking to the road on summer journeys in scorching temperatures, the retailer on Shoe Lane is keen to ensure customers' vehicles are in the best possible condition, now that the heat wave is over and autumn weather is on its way.

As such, to offer complete peace of mind and safety, the retailer is inviting Vauxhall owners to visit them for a complimentary vehicle health check.

The retailer's team of fully trained Vauxhall technicians will check a vehicle's brakes, steering, tyres, exhaust and much more at absolutely no cost, and will give drivers a printed no obligation condition report advising any work required, so they can feel confident their car will get them from A to B safely and stress-free.

Dominic Avery, Company Director, comments: "With many people having journeyed across the country and even across the continent during this summer's searing temperatures, cars will certainly have been put through their paces! Now that cooler weather conditions are on the horizon, we want to help reduce the risks of a vehicle breaking down, which is why we're offering a free charge vehicle health check."

To take advantage, all Vauxhall owners need to do is simply contact the retailer and book their vehicle in for a free vehicle health check.

A breath of fresh air

In addition to offering a complimentary vehicle health check, the retailer is also offering a great-value air conditioning debug, to give vehicles a fresh start so they're ready for autumn travels.

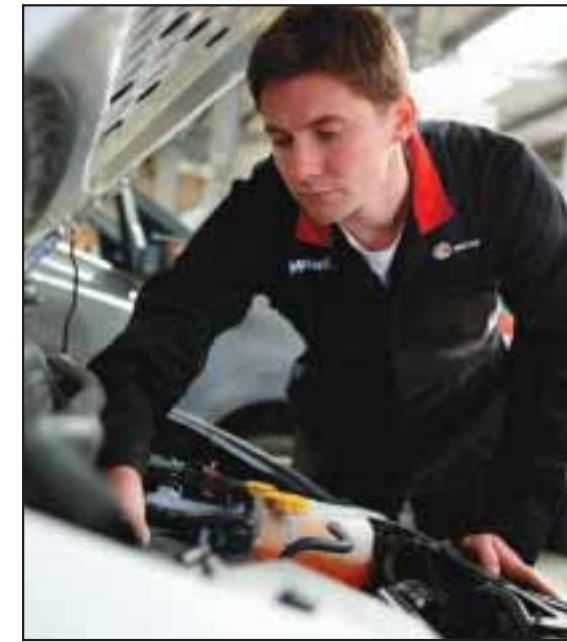

Dominic Avery adds: "When travelling in hot weather, drivers will have enjoyed the comforting coolness of their air-conditioning systems, but now that the warm spells are waning, it's the ideal time to ensure that any bacteria, mould and fungi that has built up in the system is removed, which can cause unpleasant odours, allergic reactions and irritations."

Therefore, until 30th September, the retailer is offering motorists a thorough Air Conditioning De-

Bug for just £19.99, where Vauxhall technicians will cleanse the system to remove any bacteria that may be present, improve air quality, eliminate odours and provide a healthier environment for drivers and their passengers.

To find out more about Vauxhall's range of services available at Lanehouse Bridport and to take advantage of a complimentary vehicle health check, please visit the dealership at St Andrews Industrial Estate, Shoe Lane, Bridport, Dorset DT6 3EX. Alternatively, call 01308 458018 or go online to www.lanehouse-group.co.uk.

Bowls round-up

Title still within Bridport's grasp

LYME REGIS BC with Paul Moffitt

IT was a good week for Lyme men in the league who took eight points off second placed Sherborne.

They need to get similar results in their last three games if they are to challenge Bridport for the top slot in Division One.

The ladies continued their slide in Division One of the Dorset league losing 2-8 to top of the table Blandford.

In the Edna Paisley league the ladies managed to secure six points against Sherborne thanks to a hadsome win by Pam Weech's rink 26-3.

On Saturday, the ladies played for the Robert Sumelka Cup which has become known as 'Robert's Day'.

This is a competition between drawn pairs with two woods. It is a strict knockout competition with the eventual winners being Kathy Clissold & Val Cozens who had a narrow victory over Jan Parsons & Jo Barneish 10-9.

In the friendlies Lyme were narrowly beaten by two very strong touring sides but, did manage to beat Sherborne by a decent margin.

Extraordinary tie for Stokes Family Trophy

THERE was an amazing finish to the Stokes Family Trophy this year with two junior anglers landing identical fish, weighing the same.

Nathan McMaster set the standard with a legal-sized ballan wrasse weighing 296g, and despite a number of other legal weight fish being caught, none came anywhere near his specimen until new member Jack Gosney landed an identical looking fish that, when weighed, turned out to be exactly the same weight, thus ensuring a tie for the prestigious trophy donated by the Stokes family.

This annual match was again blighted with bad weather but nine competitors signed on and bravely suffered the heavy shivers which started right on cue at 12 noon.

Despite the weather, this turned out to be the most productive junior match so far this season with every competitor managing to land at least one fish.

Connor Hallett once again lead the way with a succession of corkwing wrasse but Nathan McMaster set the standard with a legal-sized ballan wrasse of 296g.

Other species landed included whiting, sea scorpion, weever, shanny and quite a number of flounder turned up with most caught by Josh Grinter with a total of five. With the addition of three whiting, Josh caught the most fish in the match but none could equal Nathan's wrasse.

Further legal-sized fish were caught including a rockling by Danny Cowburn and a nice corkwing wrasse by Ewan Chambers; this fish also won him third place and best junior in the week-long Specimen and Species Festival; but it appeared that McMaster's efforts would land him the trophy until new member Gosney's effort.

Amazingly it also weighed 296g, and with no other fish coming close the trophy was shared.

Result: Joint 1st: Nathan McMaster/Jack Gosney 296g legal weight, 3rd: Ewan Chambers 165g (183g legal weight), Heaviest flatfish: Josh Grinter 189g flounder, Heaviest round fish: Nathan McMaster/Jack Gosney 296g ballan wrasse, Wooden spoon: James Lawrence 31g, Most species: Nathan McMaster 4, 'Next fish': Danny Cowburn, Smallest weever: Nathan McMaster 11g

The junior section would like to extend their gratitude to the Stokes family for their continued, generous support of this match with the top three competitors winning tackle vouchers on top of their usual prizes. Other sponsors on the day were: Watchouse Cafe, Kay Guppy, Richard 'Tiny' Daw and Norman Stokes.

Four year-old Luke is Crabbing champ

A FOUR-YEAR-OLD called Luke was acclaimed the RNLI Crabbing champion after he hooked crabs weighing over twice that of his nearest rival.

Open to all ages, a disappointing eleven competitors spent two hours crabbing around the harbour, with the winner decided by the total heaviest weight of up to five crabs.

Despite some good weights being recorded it was Luke that not only won the Under 16s prize, but was also the overall winner and crowned RNLI Crabbing Champion 2013.

Katy Frost with crabs totalling 262g won the Over 16s title.

The club would like to thank the following for their kind donations: Fladen Fishing Tackle, Nick Fisher, Tackle Box Lyme Regis, the Angling Centre West Bay and Richard "Tiny" Daw.

■ ALL TIED UP: Joint winners Nathan McMaster (left) and Jack Gosney with members of the Stokes Family

Lyon takes the prize

Lyme Regis Golf News

On Sunday, August 25th the men played their three-ball better ball and it was good to see new names appear on the podium as Shane Brown, Simon Doyle, and Justin McDonald took first place with 83 points from Roger Seed, George Seed and Stephen Buxton with 82 points. The ladies played their Canadian Greensomes (where you can take the best of the first two shots per hole before playing alternate shots). Rhoda Elwick and Jean Falconer beat the rest scoring 42 points, 2nd with 41 points were Jane Andrews and Emma Davies from Elizabeth Linnert and Wendy Cannings with 39 points. Many club knock-out competitions have been completed and full results will appear soon, but surely one of the most encouraging things for the future was in the final of the scratch KO that saw two juniors compete for the prize. George Seed had to settle for 2nd place as David Lyon capped an incredible year to take the trophy.

BOTH Dorchester and Weymouth bowed out of top flight cricket on Saturday with wins and now take their place in the new Premier Two League next season.

Elsewhere both Martinstown, who will be playing in Premier 2 next season after finishing runners-up in Division One and Bridport who also finished second in Division Four had transport problems.

Martinstown who looked like they would start with only four at Corfe Mullen won their match, but Bridport had to play with eight at Hamworthy Rec after three were left stranded when their car broke down, and subsequently lost.

Beaminster found themselves victims of the rules and despite the 2nds playing their match at Chalke Valley, were subsequently scratched and lost 20 points by the league, after presumably unable to field two full sides, they scratched the first team and played some of their senior players in the seconds. Not that it helped, they still lost!

DORCHESTER 182 ALL OUT BEAT

BROADSTONE 131 ALL OUT BY 51 RUNS

DORCHESTER went out with a bang, thanks to a superb 82 from Sam Goodhew and James Dunham's 4-30 as they beat Broadstone.

Stands of 73 with Greg Holland (15) and 39 with Dan Morris (21) took the county town from 46-3 to 158-5 but G Parsons (3-19) and J Brown (3-9) saw Dorchester finish in 182 all out.

There was early success for Dan Belt (1-30) and Dunham when the visitors replied to leave them 8-2, and despite a third wicket stand of 50, Dunham killed any hopes of a Broadstone victory as three wickets fell for three runs, and despite 42 from B. Manley late on he couldn't stop Dorchester giving scorer Graham Belt a winning send off as he retired after ten seasons.

Graham has supplied the media with excellent scorecards over the seasons and will be sadly missed.

He said: "I was introduced to Dorchester CC by my son-in-law Mark Derrien, when we were in Division One, and playing against teams such as Compton House which was my favourite venue ever.

"Mark then retired and handed over to Martin Richards, who in my mind was a brilliant skipper, on, and off the field, and deserves much more credit than he has ever been given. He put together a team that was something Dorchester will be lucky ever to see again, and took us back into the premiership.

"The following years have been of mixed fortunes, and like all clubs we see peaks and troughs, and unfortunately is a tough. Let this be no reflection on Dan Belt who in my opinion is an excellent cricketer and captain or the coach Sean Fitzgerald.

"I have had an amazing time with Dorchester."

It is reported, but yet to be confirmed that Andy Harris will succeed Belt next season.

"If that is the case he is an excellent scorer and I wish him all the best for the future, added Belt.

BEAMINSTER (SCRATCHED)

BEAMINSTER scratched their final game of the season in favour of playing their final 2nd XI game, but fell foul of the league authorities for doing so.

The rules state that if the club cancels a game it must be at the expense of the lowest ranked team.

As a result both the 1st and 2nd teams were deemed to have scratched and both were deducted 20 points.

FERNDOWN WAYFARERS 2ND 131 ALL OUT

LOST TO CATTISTOCK 132-5 BY 5 WICKETS

CATTISTOCK easily defeated Ferndown Wayfarers and earn promotion from Division Three and look forward to playing local rivals Beaminster next season.

The hosts decided to bat on winning the toss, but O'Brien eight.

Skipper Monteith said: "A great finish to a rather up and down season. Our bowlers did an excellent job today, bowling consistent good lines and maintaining the pressure on the opposition.

"This provided the perfect platform to allow Dan and Rob to hit some cracking shots in the run chase; some real positives to take into next season."

Division Six

BEAMINSTER 2NDS (SCRATCHED)

LOST TO CHALKE VALLEY (WON)

BEAMINSTER'S decision could have had serious repercussions had they beaten Chalke Valley on Saturday.

As it was, despite a side strengthened by the inclusion of three senior first team players including their captain, they failed to prevent the hosts winning and claiming more than the 15 points they needed to ensure Charlton Down, who also won and collected 20 points, did not with the Division Six title.

In the end Chalke Valley would have collected maximum points from the game even if the game had counted.

As it was the league penalised Beaminster for scrapping their first team game in preference to playing their second team, and under league rules also deducted 20 points from Beaminster 2nds meagre total.

WINFRITH NEWBURGH 76 ALL OUT

LOST TO CHARLTON DOWN 79-3 BY 7 WICKETS

CHARLTON Down completed a very successful first season in Saturday cricket with a comfortable win over Winfrith Newburgh that sees them finish just seven points behind champions Chalke Valley.

The hosts got off to the worst possible start as Nigel Voss (3-7) removed their first three batsmen with just five runs on the board.

Only captain Shaun Everill with 34 managed to contain the Charlton bowlers who ran riot.

Matt Stevens (2-3) bagged a brace whilst Jake Pike (1-9), Jacob Holland (1-11), Cameron Lucas (1-27), Scott Parker (1-1) and Jack Eveleigh (107) all picked up a wicket as the hosts were dismissed for just 76 all out.

However Charlton had their own problems when they batted with Everill (3-31) removing openers Javed Gill (1) and Stevens (2) with just 13 on the board and when he bowled Eveleigh (5) they were 31-3.

However, Holland (22 not out) and Jae Miller (25 not out) steered them home with the aid of 24 extras to a comfortable victory.

Captain Graham Bartlett claimed three wickets and did young Adam Gay who came on to bowl at the end of the innings, while Ollie Lee bagged a brace and Tim Parkman had the other.

Colin Lloyd batted well for his 31 in reply, but apart from Phil Hawkins with an unbeaten 19 not out, no one else contributed much.

◆ THIS Sunday (September 8th) Symene Cricket Club hosts the Mark Broad Six-a-side competition at their Symondsbury ground.

The six-team competition is played on a round-robin first round before a knock-out final begins at 11am.

MARTINSTOWN lost the toss and were asked to take to the field for the final game of the season.

Opening bowlers Colin Crosthwaite and Matt Rimmer bowled with great control to build early pressure resulting in the visitors openers falling cheaply.

who continued to rip through the Bradford Abbas middle order, taking 4-14 in eight overs.

Bees give Merthyr a run for their money

BRIDPORT 2 MERTHYR TYDFIL 3

FA Cup Preliminary round - att: 146
BRIDPORT Manager Trevor Senior was proud of his side's performance despite defeat and exit from this year's FA Cup.

Twice the Bees fought back against their Southern League Division One South & West opponents before being beaten by a deflected shot.

Bridport went behind early on when a cross was cleared to the edge of the box where Kris Leek brought the ball down before curling a superb left foot shot around Sam Filkins and in off the inside of the far post. Soon after Merthyr Filkins was forced into a good save before the Martyrs hit a post.

Recovering from the blow Bridport's confidence grew and they equalised on 28 minutes. Alan Hill was caught in possession as he looked to bring the ball out of defence on the halfway line, but his tenacity won him the ball back and he played it wide to Russell Legg. His diagonal ball to the far post found Jamie Filkins who headed back across goal for Sam Charles to nod home.

With Tom Richardson and Ryan Dovell out through suspension and injury, Senior decided to play with just one striker, Sam Charles, up front and flood the midfield to try and frustrate their opponents and it worked quite well, and despite forcing numerous corners, the Bees defence on the whole held strong.

Five minutes before halftime however Merthyr regained the lead following another corner when Marcus Griffiths reacted quickest to prod the ball home. Undeterred the Bees kept fighting and equalised again three minutes into the second-half when Charles added his second of the game, heading home Dan Wise's corner; only Bridport's second of the game; at the far post.

Bridport had their tails up and Sam Charles almost notched his hat trick four minutes later when he was put through in the centre of the goal on the edge of the box by a great ball from Darren Watts.

However, he took his shot quickly and the ball rolled just wide of the upright. Shane Evans then had a free header near the penalty spot following another corner, but it drifted over the crossbar.

Merthyr were clearly rattled by Bridport's efforts but they hung on and won the game with a rather fortunate goal. A cross found Griffiths whose shot flicked up off Evans' foot as he tackled him and took a deflection over Sam Filkins.

Even then Bridport might have forced a replay when Matt Condiffe raced onto another superb Watt's through ball, but his shot as the keeper reached him just slid past the post.

Bees fall to lightning strike

Bridport 0 Buckland Athletic 1

TUESDAY, AUGUST 27TH

Toolstation Premier Div - att: 100

A FIRST minute goal was enough to give Buckland Athletic the points at St Mary's last Tuesday, although in truth they should have won by more.

Jamie Micklewright ended a swift move started in defence after just 50 seconds, with a low shot across Sam Filkins.

The goal stunned the Bees who played second fiddle all night to a very confident and competent side who look like they may have a say in the title race based on this performance.

On loan Steve Smith made his home debut for Bridport having scored in the side's 2-1 victory at Bitton on Saturday, but he never really got the chance to show against a defence marshalled by Alex Jeanin, who had three seasons with Exeter City.

At the other end the Bees defence were under constant threat with the swift moving Bucks attack.

Simon Revell volleyed just wide, before Sam Filkins did well to turn a 25-yard Ben Carter shot that bounced just in front of him, away for a corner. Revell then played a neat one-two before firing just wide once again.

Dan Griffiths should have increased the visitors' lead on 41 minutes but fired his shot over after Filkins had parried a shot.

Bridport's first chance came on the stroke of halftime when Smith was played through, but his first touch let him down.

The second-half was much of the same, although just after the hour Dan Wise won himself a corner after a run that took him from midway in his own half.

His resultant kick found Chris Clarke at the far post but he couldn't quite control it.

Buckland responded with a 30-yard drive from Lucas Burgess that saw Filkins diving to his right to turn for a corner.

The introduction of Darren Watts saw more movement along the Bees forward line and when Clarke crossed from the left Jamie Filkins might have done better but miscued at the far post.

Manager Trevor Senior had hoped his side could continue the good work after getting their first win at Bitton, but conceded that his charges had been beaten by a better side.

Moore aiming for hat-trick of wins

THE final two rounds of the Bridge Tyres and Wheels Point S Wiscombe Park Hill Climb championship take place at the East Devon venue this weekend (Saturday and Sunday).

The meeting represents the last opportunity for Lyme Regis driver Craig Moore to make history in being the first driver to win the series on three occasions and, if he is successful, three years in succession.

The Cortina GT driver currently lies third in the standings, 1.23 points in arrears of Anthony Wright in his Audi A3 who in turn trails Ford Fiesta Supersport driver Mark Shillaber by 0.98 of a point.

Fellow Lyme residents Paul and John Sullivan will contest the Road-going Specialist Production Car category (engines over 1400cc up to 1800cc or motorcycle engines 875cc up to 1125cc) in a Westfield SE1 and will face stern opposition from the Stuart Taylor R1 of Philip Pearn who was third in the 2012 Wiscombe Championship and Sherborne's Graham Vingoe who drives a Caterham 7 Superlight R.

The over 2600cc division of the Road-going Production class will see Lawrence Alexander face the Subaru Imprezas of Steve Clarke and Wiscombe championship sponsor Mike Potter. Alexander, from Bridport will be at the wheel of his BMW Z3M.

Weymouth speed duo Geoff and Graham Blake will compete in their two-litre Westfield SE1 but will have face the challenge of Philip Montgomery-Smith aboard his Fisher Fury. Geoff, currently 7th, will be seeking to move up the championship.

The battle for the overall victory on each day will include Rod Eyles in his Hart engine Pilbeam MP53. The motorhome dealer will face the Jaguar powered MP58 of garage proprietor Paul Crute.

However, both these drivers will be aware that the Suzuki Hayabusa powered Pilbeam MP62 of Ed Hollier remains unbeaten at Wiscombe Park this season.

There will be events on both Saturday and Sunday which will count for a number of regional championships. Admission: Saturday £7. Sunday: £7. Accompanied children under 14 are free as is car parking and also transfer to the competitor's enclosure.

Catering and licenced bar are available. Wiscombe Park is situated north of Blackberry Camp.

Follow the AA signs from Honiton and on the A3052.

■ THREE IN A ROW? A determined Craig Moore 'three wheels' his Cortina GT. Expect to see such commitment again this weekend as he attempts to win the Wiscombe championship for a third time.

Encouraging start to new season for Blues

BRIDPORT Rugby Club have put the problems of last season behind them and appear to have started in a much more confident and encouraging style over the weekend for both the senior and junior sections of the club.

The senior side played a trial game against Crewkerne at the Brewery Ground on Saturday. Played over four 20 minute periods it allowed each club to make team changes to try out varying player combinations.

Crewkerne play in a higher Somerset league and had already had a trial against Sherborne, so the result of 25-17 in their favour was complimentary to the Blues.

Club Captain Oz Sullivan said: "It was a good blow-out and a chance for new players to show their talents and for some training moves to be tested against opposition. A good preparation for next week's Dorset & Wilts cup game away at East Dorset."

This season sees two new coaches, Ayorinde Fraser and Krissie Washington, and they are overseeing training which has started on Tuesdays and Thursday at 7pm, for which turnouts have been good.

Meanwhile, Sunday saw junior registration which went well with plenty of enthusiastic new recruits and their parents as well as current members.

The club were unable to run the U16 and Colts teams last year due to a lack numbers, and chairman Mark Perkin is calling for all to attend training particularly as the Colts start their fixtures this Sunday (September 8th) against Dorchester.

Any young players interested in joining who haven't yet, should contact Mark Perkin (mark.brfc@springbottom.com) or Alan Staerck.

Any senior players who have not yet paid their subscription of £60 need to contact the club as soon as possible when they will be also given a new pair of shorts.

The chairman said: "Everybody should be very smartly turned out this year, with club shorts and new shirts. Jason Blackmore has done a sterling job of organising the kit in record time."

He added that the club volunteering team are continuing to develop helpers

■ HERE'S THE PLAN: New Bridport RFC coaches Ayorinde Fraser (centre) and Krissie Washington (right) oversee training with club captain Rob Sullivan and willing volunteers, and that they would be interested to hear from anyone wishing to help the club.

Even those not rugby orientated can help; including those wishing to develop their CVs or working towards the Duke of Edinburgh Award. If anyone is interested please contact the volunteer coordinator Ian Brazier (ianfbrazier@live.com).

Senior proud of team despite Merthyr defeat

BRIDPORT Manager Trevor Senior whilst disappointed that Saturday's defeat had seen their exit from the FA Cup, was however very proud of his side after they lost out in a five-goal thriller that saw their higher ranked Southern League Division One South & West opponents progressing thanks to an unfortunate deflected goal 12 minutes from time.

"The lads didn't let themselves down at all, although I think we gave them a bit too much respect for the first 25 minutes

They are a decent side and we had quite a bit of defending to do, and Sam Filkins had a couple of decent saves to make before they scored.

They put us under a lot of pressure at times and forced a number of corners throughout the match; I would suggest it was something like 20 to two in their favour.

by STUART BROOM

try to frustrate

"I'd had a couple of reports on them and with Tom Richardson and Ryan Dovell missing through suspension and injury, and on-loan Steve Smith cup tied by Wimborne, I decided to set up with just Sam up top.

"The idea was to try and frustrate them if possible by packing midfield, knowing if I had to chase the game I had options on the bench, and it worked quite well.

"We grew in confidence as the first-half went on and equalised with a well worked goal before they took the lead again.

Only 2-1 down at half-time I thought we were still in it, and soon after the break we equalised."

The former Reading striker added: "We played a lot better in the second-half and had a couple of chances through Sam and Shane Evans; had we scored from one of those things might have turned out differently, who knows.

"Their winner was unfortunate because Sam Filkins thinks he would have saved it had it not taking the deflection off Shane's leg as he got his tackle in."
